John Brett living near the premiſes, at £. 30 a year, and taxes paid; it furniſhes the beſt convenience on ſaid run, which is large and conſtant for daming water; and though at preſent it is in bad order, a good judge of ſuch buſineſs might make it very valuable, as it is in the heart of a fine wheat country, and is in a fine ſtand for a ſtore, &c. being on a large rolling road to Dumfries—200 acres are under promiſe of a leaſe for lives—The reſt unincumbered, except two or three tenements at will.—The land is but little cut and tolerably timbered.—Mr. Peter Smith who lives adjoining the land will ſhew it.—It will be ſold altogether, or laid off in lots to ſuit purchaſers.—Capt. BOSTON, October 28.

YESTERDAY the Governor by meſſage acquainted the Honorable Legiſlature of the ſupt by poſt, of a letter from Mr. Secretary mpſon, incloſing ſeveral accounts of hoſtile and atening appearances in a number of tribes of ians on our frontiers——and a reſolution of greſs, on a report of a committee on the ſubject, ch recommends, if we recollect right, that the ps in the pay of the United States be augment- with 1360 men, to be raiſed immediately, and the following States, viz. Maſſachuſetts 660, w-Hampſhire 260, Connecticut 180, and Rhode- nd 120, infantry and artillery—and two of the thern States, 60 cavalry each.

On Thurſday orders were iſſued by his Excellency Captain-General of the Commonwealth, to the ependent cadets, commanded by Col. Bradford, hold themſelves in readineſs to march immedi- y, with neceſſary camp equipage, &c. In con- uence of the above orders, we are told, a num- of gentlemen have requeſted to be permitted to nd the company as volunteers, and to be under command of its officers.

n conſequence of the deſire of the Honorable giſlature, that the Supreme Executive would take aſures for protecting the Supreme Judicial Court, law to be held at Cambridge on Tueſday next n ardor for the vigorous ſupport of law and go- nment ran through all ranks of the citizens of town with electrical rapidity.—The ancient and norable artillery, under Major Bell—the inde- dent light infantry, under Capt. Otis, have of- ed their ſervices as volunteers.—To them, and he independent cadets, much credit is due for alacrity with which, at their own expence, they e furniſhed themſelves with the neceſſary camp ipage, and the zeal they diſcover for endeavour- to ſecure to the good people of this Common- alth the quiet enjoyment of their conſtitutional ts.

The town being deſtitute of an artillery company, terday, we are told, a few worthy gentlemen ſet foot a plan for raiſing one, which we alſo hear, ompleted.

During the ſtay of the mob on the green at Taun- , one Lee, of Springfield, appearing very for- d in damning government, the conſtitution, it was thought adviſeable to apprehend him, after examination he was committed to gaol.

The General Aſſembly of New-Hampſhire, at r laſt ſeſſion, paſſed, among others, the follow- acts: An act for ſupplying the treaſury with the of 70,277 dollars and 2-3ds, for the purpoſe of harging that part of the requiſition of Congreſs, ich is to be paid in facilities—An act in compli- e with the treaty of peace between the United tes and his Britannic Majeſty, and with the re- mmendation of Congreſs of January 1784; found- thereon—A reſolve, that there be an addition of ee companies to the firſt regiment of light-horſe mmanded by Col. Cogwell—and a reſolve, that re be three regiments of light-horſe, inſtead of as per a former reſolve.

Among the inquiries which are daily made, for cauſes of the evils we at preſent feel and experi- e, how few are the number which are directed he moſt profitable ſource? It is a fact, they have ginated in the general decay of piety, and the t of honeſty, moderation, juſtice, virtue, and earance. From theſe ſpring our calamities, and eſs we endeavour to revive and cheriſh theſe, the dom of the ſenator, and the knowledge and pre- nce of the politician, will be exerted in vain to ove. If 'every one corrects one, all will be rmed,' is a juſt and faithful ſaying—How ne- ary then is it, that each one ſhould endeavour a rmation, that the conſequences that now threat- us may be averted, and that our land may be wor- the peculiar care of an over-ruling Providence.

Report of a Committee of Congreſs.

The Grand Committee, conſiſting of Mr. Livermore, Mr. Dane, Mr. Manning, Mr. Johnſton, Mr. Smith, Mr. Symmes, Mr. Pettit, Mr. Henry, Mr. Lee, Mr. Bloodworth, Mr. Pinckney, and Mr. Houſton, appointed to report ſuch amendments to the confederation, and ſuch reſolutions as it may be neceſſary to recommend to the ſeveral States, for the purpoſe of obtaining from them ſuch powers as will render the federal government adequate to the ends for which it was inſtituted:

Beg leave to ſubmit the following Report to the conſideration of Congreſs:

RESOLVED, That it be recommended to the Legiſlatures of the ſeveral States to adopt the following articles, as articles of the confederation, and to authoriſe their Delegates in Congreſs to ſign and ratify the ſame ſeverally as they ſhall be adopted, to wit:

Art. 14. The United States in Congreſs aſſembled ſhall have the ſole and excluſive power of regulating the trade of the States, as well with foreign nations as with each other, and of laying ſuch prohibitions, and ſuch impoſts and duties upon imports and exports, as may be neceſſary for the purpoſe; provided the citizens of the States ſhall in no inſtance be ſubjected to pay higher duties and impoſts than thoſe impoſed on the ſubjects of foreign powers; provided alſo, that all ſuch duties as may be impoſed, ſhall be collected under ſuch regulations as the United States in Congreſs aſſembled ſhall eſtabliſh, conſiſtent with the conſtitutions of the States reſpectively, and to accrue to the uſe of the State in which the ſame ſhall be payable; provided alſo, that the Legiſlative power of the ſeveral States ſhall not be reſtrained from laying embargoes in time of ſcarcity; and provided laſtly, that every act of Congreſs for the above purpoſe, ſhall have the aſſent of nine States in Congreſs aſſembled, and in that proportion when there ſhall be more than thirteen in the union.

Art. 15. That the reſpective States may be induced to perform the ſeveral duties, mutually and ſolemnly agreed to be performed by their federal compact; and to prevent unreaſonable delays in any State in furniſhing her juſt proportion of the common charges of the union when called upon, and thoſe eſſential evils which have heretofore often ariſen to the confederacy from ſuch delays, it is agreed, that whenever a requiſition ſhall be made by Congreſs upon the ſeveral States on the principles of the confederation, for their quotas of the common charges or land forces of the union, Congreſs ſhall fix the proper periods when the States ſhall paſs legiſlative acts, complying therewith, and give full and complete effect to the ſame; and if any State ſhall neglect ſeaſonably to paſs ſuch acts, ſuch State ſhall be charged with an additional ſum to her quota, called for from the time ſhe may be required to pay or furniſh the ſame, which additional ſum or charge, ſhall be at the rate of ten per cent. per annum on her ſaid quota, and if the requiſition ſhall be for land forces, and any State ſhall neglect to furniſh her quota in time, the average expence of ſuch quota ſhall be aſcertained by Congreſs, and ſuch State ſhall be charged therewith, or with the average expence of what ſhe may be deficient, and in addition thereto, from the time her forces were required to be ready to act in the field, with a farther ſum, which ſhall be at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum on the amount of ſuch expence.

Art. 16. And that reſources of any State which may be negligent in furniſhing her juſt proportion of the common expence of the union, may in a reaſonable time be applied; it is further agreed, that if any State ſhall ſo neglect as aforeſaid, to paſs laws in compliance with the ſaid requiſition, and to adopt meaſures to give the ſame full effect, for the ſpace of ten months, and ſhall then or afterwards be found that a majority of the States have paſſed ſuch laws, and adopted ſuch meaſures, the United States in Congreſs aſſembled ſhall have full power and authority to levy, aſſeſs and collect all ſums and duties with which any ſuch State ſo neglecting to comply with the requiſition, may ſtand charged on the ſame by the laws and rules by which the laſt State tax next preceding ſuch requiſition in ſuch State, was levied, aſſeſſed and collected; to apportion the ſum ſo required on the towns or counties in ſuch State, to order the ſums ſo apportioned to be aſſeſſed by the aſſeſſors of ſuch laſt State tax, and the ſaid aſſeſſments to be committed to the collectors of the ſame laſt State tax, to collect and to make return of ſuch aſſeſſments and commitments to the treaſurer of the United States, who, by himſelf, or his deputy, when directed by Congreſs, ſhall have power to recover the monies of ſuch collectors for the uſe of the United States in the ſame manner and under the ſame penalties as State taxes are recovered and collected by the treaſurers of the reſpective States; and the ſeveral towns or counties reſpectively, ſhall be reſponſible for the conduct of ſaid aſſeſſors and collectors; and in caſe there ſhall be any vacancy in any of ſaid offices of aſſeſſors or collectors, by death, removal, refuſal to ſerve, reſignation, or otherwiſe, then other fit perſons ſhall be choſen to fill ſuch vacancies in the uſual manner in ſuch town or county, within twenty days after notice of the aſſeſſment, and in caſe any towns or counties, any aſſeſſors, collectors or ſheriffs, ſhall neglect or refuſe to do their duty, Congreſs ſhall have the ſame rights and powers to compel them that the State may have in aſſeſſing and collecting State taxes.

And if any State, by any legiſlative act, ſhall prevent or delay the due collection of ſaid ſums, as aforeſaid, Congreſs ſhall have full power and authority to appoint aſſeſſors and collectors thereof, and ſheriffs to enforce the collections under the warrants of diſtreſs iſſued by the treaſurer of the United States; and if any further oppoſition ſhall be made to ſuch collections, by the State or by the citizens thereof, and their conduct not diſapproved of by the State, ſuch conduct, on the part of the State, ſhall be conſidered as an open violation of the federal compact.

Art. 17. And any State which, from time to time, ſhall be found in her payments on any requiſition in advance on an average of the payments made by the States, ſhall be allowed an intereſt of per cent. per annum, on her ſaid advanced ſums or expences; and the State which, from time to time, ſhall be found in arrear on the principles aforeſaid, ſhall be charged with an intereſt of per cent. per annum, on the ſums in which ſhe may be ſo in arrear.

Art. 18. In caſe it ſhall hereafter be found neceſſary by Congreſs to eſtabliſh any new ſyſtem, of revenue, and to make any new regulations in the finances of the United States for a limited term, not exceeding fifteen years, in their operation, for ſupplying the common treaſury with monies for defraying all charges of war, and all other expences that ſhall be incurred for the common defence, or general welfare; and ſuch new ſyſtems or regulations ſhall be agreed to and adopted by the United States in Congreſs aſſembled, and afterwards be confirmed by the legiſlatures of eleven States, and in that proportion when there ſhall be more than thirteen in the union, the ſame ſhall become binding in all the States as fully as if the legiſlatures of all the States ſhould confirm the ſame.

Art. 19. The United States in Congreſs aſſembled ſhall have the ſole and excluſive power of declaring what offences againſt the United States ſhall be deemed a treaſon, and what offences ſhall be deemed piracy or felony on the high ſeas, and to annex ſuitable puniſhments to all the offences aforeſaid reſpectively, and power to inſtitute a federal judicial court, for trying and puniſhing all officers appointed by Congreſs, for all crimes, offences and miſbehaviour in their offices, and to which court an appeal ſhall be allowed from the judicial courts of the ſeveral States, in all cauſes wherein queſtions ſhall ariſe on the meaning and conſtruction of treaties entered into by the United Stat foreign power, or on the law of nations, any queſtion ſhall ariſe reſpecting any that may hereafter be made by Congreſs trade and commerce, or the collection of venues purſuant to powers that ſhall be body, or wherein queſtions of importanc and the United States ſhall be a party that the trial of the fact by a jury ſhall e ſacred and alſo the benefits of the writ of pus; provided alſo, that no member of C officer holding any office under the U ſhall be judge of ſaid court; and the ſaid conſiſt of ſeven judges, to be appoint different parts of the union, to wit: One Hampſhire, Rhode-Iſland, and Conne from Maſſachuſetts; one from New-York Jerſey; one from Pennſylvania; one fro and Maryland; one from Virginia; an North-Carolina, South-Carolina, and G four of whom ſhall be a quorum to do bu
